Ways to help your child prepare for testing:

Please remember that MAP testing requires no prior content preparation. MAP tests are offered to determine your child's instructional level and needs. The following are ways you can help your child preparing for MAP testing:

- Meet with your child's teacher as often as needed to discuss his or her progress. Ask about activities you and your child can do at home to help prepare for tests and improve your child's understanding of schoolwork. Parents and teachers working together benefits students.
- Provide a quiet, comfortable place for studying at home without distractions from TV or electronic devices.
- Make sure that your child is well rested on school days and especially the day of a test. Children who are tired are less able to pay attention in class or handle the demands of a test.
- Give your child a well-rounded diet. A healthy body leads to a healthy, active mind.
